

Chapter 2 Fulks Run Elementary School

A new seven-room brick elementary school opened in Bergton in 1958, but Fulks Run children at that time were divided between at least two schools: the Genoa School, built in 1919 on Route 817; and Broadway Elementary School, which in 1952/53 absorbed pupils from the Fulks Run School on Dry River Road, the Mt. Pleasant (Fawley) School on Route 259, and the Runions Creek School on Route 610. It took determination, tenacity, and connections to get a school built in Fulks Run. The club's commitment to the school did not end when construction was completed in 1961, but continues today with substantial support for a wide variety of equipment and programs, Halloween and Christmas parties, and annual essay contests.

MEMORIES

By Garnett R. Turner, Charter Member; President 1959, 1976

Probably our most important project was the Fulks Run Elementary School. We did surveys on the prospective students living in the area and got petitions signed. We took a bus load of people before the School Board and county supervisors. The Board of Supervisors did not want to let all of us in the room but I told them our group did not mind standing. My high school classmate, Cecil Armentrout, was Chairman of the Board of Supervisors. He asked me to sit in the "Hot Seat" and be spokesman. We presented our case and left. That same afternoon, the supervisors passed a motion to build our school.

New School At Fulks Run Is Authorized By School Board

A new elementary school at Fulks Run was authorized yesterday by the Rockingham county school board Supt. Wilbur S. Pence announced. The board's earlier decision for the Fulks Run location was supported by a survey team from the State Dept. of Education, which visited the Plains district area west of Broadway Friday.

Architect D.P. Davis Jr., of Harrisonburg, has been directed to draw plans for the Fulks Run building, which will be similar to those opened last year at Bergton and Ottobine.

Seek Literary Loan

Application to the State Literary Fund for a loan to finance the construction will be made with the approval of the Rockingham Board of Supervisors, Mr. Pence added. This application cannot be made until the school board has the deed for the six acre site to be acquired from the Turner and Fawley families near the Fulks Run postoffice.

While no promise as to the opening date of the school building can be made, Supt. Pence said that if the loan and plans are approved within a reasonable time it would be possible to have the new building ready for the beginning of the 1960-61 session.

Complete Facilities

The new building will contain seven class rooms, a multiple-purpose room, kitchen, cafeteria, clinic and office like those in the new buildings at Bergton and Ottobine. Those buildings cost $125,000 each. They were built at the same time. The Fulks Run school, built alone, will probably cost more, Mr. Pence has been informed.

The school will have a capacity of 200 to 225 pupils. Crowding at the Broadway and Mt. Clinton elementary schools will be partially relieved.

There are 86 pupils from the area to be served by the new school now going to Broadway. Mt. Clinton enrolls 49 and Bergton 21. Those attending the present school at nearby Genoa would also go to the new building.

Site Now Available

The school board some months ago favored a site at Fulks Run but ran into difficulties in trying to acquire the land. A community committee last week advised the board that the site can now be purchased. The Board of Supervisors has approved the purchase of a site for the school.

Members of the state education dept. which visited the area were given attendance figures from the Genoa, Runion's Creek, Fulks Run and West Hopkins Gap and other nearby areas. They agreed with the School board that Fulks Run was the logical and most convenient location.

There are no indoor facilities at the school so that the addition of this area permits children more days outside the building. This project required 20 man hours from members who helped. A set of basketball goals was placed at the ends of the area. Members placed the goals which required 30 man hours. These two projects cost the club $500. Club members placed a set of see-saws at the school. This involved 30 man hours. Volleyball net stands were transported from Broadway to the new hardtop area at the school by a member who traveled 20 miles and donated 2 man hours. Wenger joined the club shortly before he took over as principal in July, 2007. "The relationship between the school and the club has always been a supportive one both ways," he said. "We try to meet the club's needs for a meeting and dining space, and the club has met many of our needs. In just the one year that I've been principal, the club has contributed to field trips, the Passport for Summer reading program, our paper and phone book recycling efforts, and the Children in Need fund, as well as holding the annual Halloween and Christmas parties for the school and the Easter egg hunt for all the community's children."

No sooner was the school completed than it served as a community center for an emerging issue that threatened the very existence of Fulks Run.
